HON. GEORGE F. HUFF WILL GET STRONG SUPPORT

Head of the County Ticket, Popular With the People and Will Win on November 6th, by Large Majority.

trict is a man whom all true blue representatives of the party honor and respect. He is the choice of the Republican voters of this great county to be returned to Congress.

We therefore submit his portrait together with this brief sketch and ask that Mr Huff receive the support of every Republican in this end of the county. Mr. Huff is a progressive Republic and an upright, influential and successful business man. During his Congressional career he has made a multitude of friends and has proven his ability to well represent the large and varied interests of his constituents and no member of Congress has a more enviable record than he.

In presenting as he does the mining interests of this great county he has always been in touch with the laboring class and it can be truthfully said that Mr. Huff is the poor man's friend and he has no stronger endorsement for his return to office than comes from those who toil in the mines in which he is interested.

To carry forward the business that multiplies in a Congressional district like the Westmoreland Butler, and to obtain the best possible results, requires a representative far above the average for integrity, for ability, for experience, for judgement, for foresight and for all the other qualities which go to make up a man of affairs, such a one is the Hon. George F. Huff who stands at the head of his ticket as the choice of eighteen thousand republicans at a hotly contested primary election. On November 6th Mr. Huff should receive the full and loyal support of his party in this county and would be equally strong here as elsewhere. He stands on a platform pledged to give a square deal to everyman and those who are personally acquainted with the gentleman can join us in giving assurance that if returned to Congress Mr. Huff will serve his constituents faithfully, impartially, willingly and

Dance Was a Success

The first of a series of dances was given Kelly's hall Saturday evening by the Independent club and the affair was a decided success in every way. Although the weather was slightly unfavorable, the attendance was good, several being present from surrounding towns. The music was excellent and all spent an enjoyable evening. Another dance will be given in the near future.

Will Hunt in Canada

Tomer of Webster, Dr. Farris of Perry, Dr. A. R. Kidd, C. M. Steiner and George Single of West Newton comprise a party who left last evening for the Agnetewan River district, Canada, where they will spend about fifteen days in search of big game. They will be met at Burke Fall, Canada, by R. G. Smith of California, Pa., who is now enjoying the moose hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner McClure, an aged couple died at Webster, last night, within a few hours of each other.

Mr. Turner was 67 years of age, while his wife was a few years younger. They had both been in extremely poor health for some time. When Mrs. McClure became critically ill of typhoid pneumonia, several weeks ago her husband undertook to nurse her back to health but the task was too great, and he too was soon forced to take his bed. Mr. Turner preceded his wife into the great beyond by but a few hours.

They were both members of the Methodist church of Webster, were well known and held in the highest esteem by all. They are survived by a son and two daughters, one of whom, Mrs. Joseph Finley, lives near Webster.

VOGEL'S MINSTRELS THE ATTRACTION TONIGHT

Company of Forty-Five Artists Will Entertain Large Audience at Monessen Opera House Tonight.—A High Class Minstrel Show.

The leading show of the season will appear at the local opera house tonight, and Manager Shuster is endeavoring to have a large audience greet the artists. The John Vogel Minstrels is the most talented minstrel company on the road, composed of forty-five people, each one an artist of exceptional ability. No minstrel show has ever attained the eminence in the theatrical world that the Vogel's has, and all lovers of entertainment of this character who miss tonight's performance will have something to regret.

At noon today a street parade was given through the principal thoroughfares in uniform. Two bands furnished the music, and a large crowd gathered on the streets to see and hear this feature of the show. Tonight the performance will be far above the average.

Promptly at the appointed hour the curtain rises, and from that moment until the final you have fun without a blush. Songs of sentiment by the world's greatest writers, comic ditties by the best comedians on earth, who also furnish humor without a taint. The songs have been sung; jokes have been told; the Adonis-like person in the middle has his friendly repartee with the various comedians with the bones and "Tambos". Personal grace has been shown and beauty added because of the handsome paraphernalia used in the first part setting.

The sentiment of the balladist may have caused you to be possessed of a feeling of intoxication; the festive wit of the comedians has mused you; the charming acts of the first part in its entirety has possibly astonished you, yet the glamor, frolic and fun rolls on without a hindrance.

If all municipalities would choose for office men with the character and moral fitness, that the regular Republican nominees of Westmoreland county possess, there would be no such word as "reform" in politics, bolting the ticket would not be necessary and the American citizen could feel it some honor to cast his ballot. The ballot is a sacred privilege and the man who believes in upholding the laws of our country should certainly uphold the sacredness of the ballot. This paper has always been a staunch advocate of reform in local affairs in order to purify the government of our municipality and we believe we have been successful in that direction to a very great degree. In national affairs reform has become so rampant that a united effort is being made to reform the different political parties by placing on the ticket good, clean, substantial American citizens who will uphold the dignity of the offices and enforce the laws of our land, instead of corrupting their party and dragging it beneath the respect of the intelligent class of voters. When a movement of this kind becomes universal in states and nations, as well as in municipalities, then our best citizens can say, with all the dignity of their manhood, stick to your party. On the Republican ticket in Westmoreland county it would not be possible to place there a combination of brighter, cleaner or more representative men and no reform movement could be more sweeping in that respect. They deserve the support of every voter in the county whether he is a true party man or in sympathy with measures that will tend to work a reformation in the politics of our country. If elected to office each and every man will represent the people in a manner that will be entirely satisfactory. What more can the voters ask.

FALLING OF THE LEAVES.

The Wind in the Autumn Really Has Very Little to Do With It.

When the storm clouds gather behind the brown autumnal woods and cold winds begin to blow, then the bright leaves come drifting down in fluttering, fast thickening showers until it almost seems as if the wind were the active agent and actually tore the leaves from the trees. This, of course, is not the case. The leaf fall only becomes possible after a long preparation on the part of the tree, which forms a peculiar layer of cells in each leaf stem called the cleavage plate.

This cleavage plate, or separation layer, consists of a section of loosely attached thin walled cells with a few strands of stronger woody fiber in among them, so, in the early autumn, although the leaves appear as firmly attached as ever before, they are really only held on the tree by these few woody strands and the outer brittle skin or epidermis of the stem. Now only a slight shock or wind flurry is sufficient to break the fragile support and bring the leaves in showers to the ground. We may see these woody strands broken through in the leaf scar of the horse chestnut, where they appear as little rounded projections on the broken surface and are often spoken of from their fancied resemblance to the nails of a horseshoe. The hickory and ash among other trees have similar markings on their leaf scars and from the same cause. On the root of the wild sarsaparilla, which projects just above the ground, a like series of little projections will be seen upon the ringlike scar which surrounds the bud where the leaf stalk has just separated.

Often the leaves separate and fall even on the quietest days, for their own weight is sufficient to break the frail support. These hushed and supremely tranquil days we all remember, when our October walks are accompanied by the soft, small sounds of falling leaves, by the rustlings and dry whisperings of their showering multitudes.—St. Nicholas.

SLEEP AND NERVE REST.

A Necessity That Is Overlooked In the Modern Strenuous Life.

In the days when eight hours for sleep were nominally regarded as an hour too long for any self respecting individual the exhausting character of modern life was unknown. There was less wealth and more contentment; less competition and more security; fewer distractions, but more simplicity. Work was easier, slower, and care, anxiety, apprehension—in a word, worry—did not feed, like the worm i' th' bud, upon the hours exempt from toil. We are remorseless in overtaxing the delicate mechanism of our minds and nerves. The best walker, for instance, does not propose to himself to go regularly sixty miles a day or to subject the same set of muscles in any other form of physical exercise to intense and unremitting labor. But that is what we do with the immediate agent of our minds—the brain machine. We cannot watch its operations. We often assume that its movements are as light and endless as the ripples of the universal air. We know and nevertheless we forget that the brain is a substantial apparatus as liable to depreciation as the fixed plant in a workshop. Now, nothing is more certain than this—that the potential capacity of the human brain has not increased, if at all, in anything like the proportion of the immensely aggravated demand upon it.

The modern man is subject to as much mental and moral wear and tear in a day as his ancestors in no very remote generation experienced in a week. Yet in respect of sleep we have hardly changed traditional habit. We keep later and still later hours. We catch our trains in the morning as usual. There is no doubt whatever that we burn the candle at both ends with unprecedented disregard of the laws of psychological economy, and that the amount of rest we allow for nerve and brain is no longer adequate.—London Telegraph.

Nature is the most thrifty thing in the world; she never wastes anything; she undergoes change, but there's no annihilation; the essence remains; matter is eternal.

The Word "Sinister."

Of "sinister" a writer says: "How charged, since the time of the Romans, is this simple word with dubious things, with suggestions that are ever terrible! It seems to convey the vague threat of dreams. The fact that is something worse than the clear menace of trouble in waking hours. Man wanted a word for such terrors and took the mere name of the left hand. This would serve as well as another, seeing that all words which we have filled with mental emotions had a gross material beginning, as 'bitter' and 'sweet.' Emerson says that all language is fossil poetry, but the reverse is true—human language has grown into poetry and has come to life with time."

Beef Tea For the Aged.

I have often had occasion to protest against the widely hugged delusion of beef tea being a highly nutritious food. As I have stated, it is a stimulant and has the objectionable quality of rendering the bowels lax. In old age there is an opposite natural tendency at least, that is the rule. When this rule obtains and there is weakness we shall find in strong beef tea a most valuable medicine. But do not expend the mistake of regarding the stuff as food says Home Notes. It will so stimulate the body that food can be taken; it will so stimulate it that the person will feel better, but it is making him live on his vital capital. Beef tea is no more nourishing [illegible]

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Poor action of a weak heart in a hundred is in itself actually diseased. It is almost always a helpless, baby nerve that really is at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac or Heart Nerve—simply needs at times more power, more vitality, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have the same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

DEATH CALLS AGED LADY

Mrs. Amelia Thomas, One of Websters Best Known Residents Died Yesterday Morning

Mrs. Amelia Gilmore Thomas, wife of Capt. John F. Thomas, died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, at her home in Webster of nervous prostration. She was 61 years of age. Deceased had been a sufferer from asthma for the past 25 years and when about a year ago she accompanied her daughter, Etta to Pine Bluff, N. C, to which place Miss Thomas was forced to go on account of ill health the strain of the journey, together with the shock received from the death of her daughter, which occurred shortly after their arrival at Pine Bluff, was too great and she grew steadily worse until death came to relieve her sufferings.

Mrs. Thomas enjoyed a large acquaintance in and about Webster, she having lived there all her life. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of that place and was beloved and respected by all who knew her. Her friends are legion. She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Millie and Allie N., both of whom reside at home. Also a sister, Mrs. Susan Bake of Charleroi, and three brothers, George W. and Wm. The funeral services will be held Wednesday at the late residence and will be in charge of Rev. George B. Irwin, the local Presbyterian pastor, assisted by Rev. E. D. Bevier of Fayette City. Interment will be made in Gilmore's cemetery.

Hill Tops Beat Belle Vernon

The Hilltops, Monessen's crack little eleven, experienced no difficulty in administering a crushing defeat to the Belle Vernon A. C.'s Saturday afternoon, the final score being 25 to 0. The game was played on the Belle Vernon grounds and was a veritable walkover for the locals. From the time the whistle sounded the locals were on the jump and not once throughout the entire game was their goal in danger. A good sized crowd saw the contest.
